THE "BULL-DOG" BOTTLING MARKS.

READ BROTHERS, of London, find it needful to state, for their own protection and that of the public, that they are the duly registered Owners of BOTH the original "BULL-DOG" Bottlings, Marks which were originated solely by them in connection with their Bottling Patent.

Any subsidiary bottler using the "BULL-DOG" Mark is accountable to READ BROTHERS, and must compulsorily deface the Mark with a signature written across it to show its origin.

Although the claim to "The Bull-Dog [illegible]" is thus divided, the much-used titles of "Dog's Head Ale" and "Dog's Head Stout" apply exclusively to the Bass's Ale and Guinness's Stout bottled by Read Brothers, and an injunction in their favour has accordingly been pronounced by the Lords Justices of the Supreme Court of Judicature.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 16.

The import markets still continue to hang fire, over-supply being the leading feature in almost every article of any importance, and to all appearance, judging from the scale of shipments from home this is likely to remain the position during the greater portion of the season. In exports, however, there is considerable activity for the time of year, and as all crops continue to promise well we seem pretty certain of extensive shipments in the future. Wheat continues to come forward very freely and is being shipped as rapidly, although new operations are not being developed to the same extent owing to the quietness of the home markets. Seeds are very dull notwithstanding a comparatively moderate level of prices; but Cotton has been somewhat more lively of late on the strength of active news from Liverpool. New Omras are now beginning to arrive, and there is every indication of a large crop of good quality. Freights are quiet but if anything a trifle steadier than they were. Money is unchanged. Government Paper and Shares quiet. Sterling Exchange steady.

MONEY.—The last return of the Bank of Bombay showed no very material alterations, but if any thing the movements were indicative of rather more demand for money on trade account. There is nothing however to indicate such an increased enquiry in the immediate future as to warrant anticipations of higher rates of discount. On the contrary with the probability that our export trade in Wheat will shortly begin to get into smaller compass, it is not unlikely we may have an interval of greater ease until the Cotton season assumes larger proportions which will not be until well after the turn of the year.

EXCHANGE.—We have had another quiet steady week in Sterling with only a moderate extent of business doing and no important fluctuations in rates. We opened for the Mail on Friday morning with a fairly firm feeling on the basis of 1s. 7 15-16d. to 31-32d. for demand Bank and 1s. 8¼d. for 3 months' sight credit bills, and no change of any kind occurred until yesterday when a decline of 1-32d. took place owing to Bar Silver in London having receded from 51 15-16d. to 51⅞d. per oz. To-day the market has remained unaltered, and we quote closing rates as follows:—Bank Bills on demand 1s. 7 15-16d., Telegraphic 1s. 7 29-32d. to 15-16d., 3 months' sight 1s. 8¼d; credits 3 months' sight 1s. 8 7-32d.; Documents 1s. 8¼d.; Francs 2·13½ to ¾ per rupee. These rates are obtainable up to the end of the year, but for buying an advance of 1-32d. is named up to February and 1-16d. later.

There is nothing in the appearance of things to indicate any important movement in the immediate future. We are practically guided from week to week by the rates obtained for Council drafts in London, and the mode now adopted by Government for disposing of these has the undoubted advantage of maintaining a steady level, which will only be altered as the actual pressure of trade increases or diminishes the demand for remittance to this side. At to-day's biddings in London the minimum is expected to be fixed at 1s. 7¼d., and if so we may anticipate the whole 40 lacs being taken up and no important movement here.

On Calcutta rates have hardened up during the week, and we now quote demand drafts at ¼ per cent. prem., 60 days' sight at 13-16 per cent. discount. On China the nominal quotation is Rs. 220 per 100 dollars for 60 days' sight Mercantile bills. From Hongkong, the latest quotation by wire for 4 months' sight Bank Bills on London is 3s. 9⅝d. per dollar and from Shanghai 5s. 1⅞d. per tael.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.—Owing to the tenor of the telegraphic advices from home Paper has shown a much weaker feeling latterly. The highest point of the market was reached last mail day, when Fours touched Rs. 102¼ and Fours-and-a-half Rs. 110⅞. On Friday the backward movement set in with a drop of ⅜ in the former and ¼ in the latter. No change occurred on Saturday, but on Monday a further decline of ¼ was registered, and yesterday Fours-and-a-half dropped ¼. To-day the tone has again been very quiet with a fall of ⅛, and we quote at the close Fours Rs. 101⅜; Fours-and-a-half Rs. 110⅛ to ¼. At no time has the pressure to sell been very extreme, but as there is nothing locally to strengthen the market values are entirely dependent on London where we can scarcely look for any improvement until money gets cheaper.

SHARES.—As a general rule the market has been dull throughout the week with declining values. Banks have been an exception, Bank of Bombays being 2½ per cent higher at Rs. 747½, Bank of Bengal Rs. 20, and Bank of Madras Rs. 55 higher. Agras and Nationals are unaltered. Land Companies are quiet but firm at Rs. 835 for Colabas, Bunder Port Cannings. Press Shares are and Rs. 2½ in New Indian. For Spinning and Weaving Mill Companies the demand during the week has been inactive owing to the depression existing in the markets for yarns and cloth. In Dhurrumseys the decline has been Rs. 55, in Ahmedabad Rs. 50, Victoria Rs. 40, Manockjee Petits and Great Eastern Rs. 25, Alliance, Kutao Muckjee, National and Oriental Rs. 20, and in other Companies Rs. 5 to 15 per share. In Miscellaneous Companies we have to notice an advance of Rs. 30 in Bombay Saw Mills, but Bombay Burmah Trading are Rs. 25 and Treacher and Co., Ld., Rs. 15 per share lower.

PIECE GOODS.—Our report for last week might almost be taken as an exact representation of the market since. There has been a moderate demand from the bazaar resulting in clearances of about 3,000 packages, but prices are no better. On the contrary the pressure of excessive supplies makes itself felt more distinctly every day, and any movement there is favors buyers. From first hands for future delivery there has been a moderate business passing, but nothing like the same extent as we had at this time last year or the year before, and notwithstanding the unquestionably favourable state of the crops throughout the country and the consequent probability of an extensive consumption throughout the season we still hold to the opinion that no improvement can be expected for some considerable time to come. It is not only that supplies here are heavy, but the same state of affairs exists at all the leading up-country markets, and at the pace shipments from home are being pushed forward the prospect of the consumption overtaking them is somewhat remote. Local goods continue quiet, the sales being only about 2,000 packages for the week at As. 7¾ to As. 8¾ per lb. according to quality. Stocks in the hands of the mills are heavy, of Goods and Yarns together probably not less than 40,000 packages.

TWIST.—The market for English Yarns remains in the same dull and depressed state we have had to report for so many weeks past. Stocks are if not actually excessive still a long way ahead of the demand, and although we do not alter prices, anything like an important transaction means accepting a reduction. Of Local Twist the sales by the Mills during the week are estimated at about 1,800 packages at As. 6¾ to As. 7 5-16d. per lb. for 20s.

METALS.—Copper is quiet at unchanged prices, but stocks are not heavy and the tone of sellers is fairly firm. The same may be said of Yellow Metal which is firmly held for previous rates. Iron is as depressed as ever which is saying a good deal. We make no alteration in our list of prices but under the influence of enormous stocks and heavy offerings from home the tendency is downwards.

COALS.—There has been rather more willingness to sell for distant delivery on the part of importers under the influence of which prices have receded about As. 4 per ton. Imports, however, are comparitively moderate, and seem likely to continue so at anything like the present range of prices. To arrive we quote Cardiff Rs. 14½ to Rs. 14¾, Davison's Rs. 13¾ to Rs. 14.

COTTON.—The activity displayed in Liverpool has necessarily been to some slight extent reflected here, and prices have advanced Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy for new and Re. 1 to Rs. 2 for old. The purchases for export amount to about 4,000 bales of the latter, (chiefly G. F. Omras) and of New Omras for delivery from January to March about 1,000 bales.

Regarding the New Crop the reports continue favourable in the extreme. The rains in the early part of last week appear to have done no appreciable damage except a little dark leaf here and there, and New Omras are now beginning to arrive in parcels of 20 to 50 bales. The quality ranges from F. G. F. to strict good the best samples as yet being from the Akola district where both colour and staple is very good. Khamgaum is though good in staple rather stained, and Omrawuttee is so largely mixed with the short stapled variety known as "Balatae" as to be little better than a good style of Bengals. The Mohurrum holidays at the end of this month will rather interfere with receipts but nevertheless we shall soon have fair arrivals, and by the middle of December we shall probably have as much New Omra available as we had in the middle of January last season. The Broach and Dholleras crops are still well spoken of, and estimates of the season's shipments continue to be put at 900,000 to a million bales.

The receipts of Cotton from up-country to date give the following comparisons with the two previous years.

	1881	1880.	1879.
For the week	14,016	6,928	5,112
Since 1st Sept.	95,026	54,180	68,506
Since 1st Jan.	1,179,621	1,109,027	834,366

The Clearances for Sea since the departure of last mail have been 7,232 bales, making a total of 940,941 bales since 1st January as against 878,051 bales for the same period last year.

THE following are to-days quotations for full pressed Cotton with the equivalents in Sterling, Cost, and freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without Commission:—

SEEDS.—Linseed. Arrivals are not large but they are nevertheless in excess of the demand, and the price has gone back to Rs. 6-3 per cwt., both for old ready and for new April delivery. Of Rapeseed there is no ready stock and the quotation is nominal at Rs. 6-2 to Rs. 6-3 per cwt. Gingelly is now beginning to arrive pretty freely, but owing to the dulness at home there is not much buying for export, and prices are down to Rs. 32 to Rs. 32½ per candy according to quality.

WHEAT is coming forward on a very large scale, but the demand to cover previous contracts prevents any decline in prices notwithstanding adverse advices from home. We quote No. 1 White Rs. 34 to Rs. 34½, No. 2 Rs. 32 to Rs. 32½ per Candy.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENT.

"A TELEGRAPHIST."—Your letter has been forwarded to the Adjutant, who will, no doubt, attend to the complaint.

The Bombay Gazette

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1881.

OUR London correspondent sends us several telegrams this morning which are of considerable interest. The Greeks have at length been placed in possession of Thessaly in accordance with the provision of the Treaty of Berlin. A slight concession appears to have been made to the Turks with regard to the defiles of Kritiri and Yarcos, which respectively command Larissa and Trikala, and are thus of great strategic importance. Nevertheless, Thessaly is now Greek, and the Hellenic kingdom has a frontier as well as a future.

IN Ireland affairs are not as yet by any means settling down. An attempt, it appears, has been made to shoot Major-General Meares at Ballymore on Sunday last while returning from church. Eight persons were killed: from which it may be inferred that a conflict took place, and that the attempt to shoot the General differed in its circumstances from those attending agrarian assassinations generally in Ireland. The usual plan pursued is to tell off two men, or at most three, to shoot the victim while passing along an unfrequented part of the road, where neither police nor witnesses are about. General Meares is, we believe, the first officer of higher rank than a Major who has ever been fired at in Ireland. It is not stated in the telegram whether he was fired at as a General Officer or as a landlord. The distinction though not perhaps of much moment to the General personally, would have, obviously, a political interest of its own during the present crisis. According to Hart, Major-General Meares is now on the Retired List.

M. GAMBETTA has lost no time in issuing a reassuring programme. His aim will be the introduction of gradual reforms, the extension of commerce by treaties, and the preservation of peace at home and abroad. His speeches previous to the elections in August last familiarised the French public with the idea of effecting, sweeping innovations "gradually." He expressly or implicitly accepted nearly the whole of the programme of the ultras, the one point of difference being that whereas they wished to remodel all things sublunary at a blow, he proposed to do it by a series of taps. His object was, not to scare the Conservatives and the peasant proprietors out of their wits, but nevertheless to have on his side the Republicans of the towns, who are in France the party of action and progress. The judicial bench is to be re-organised with a view to excluding old fogies who are not Republicans of the eve or, for that matter, of the morrow. The army is to be purged of Generals who are either Bonapartist or Orleanist, so that it may be made homogeneous, that is to say, Republican; the only difficulty being as to the shade of Republicanism which it will be best for them to swear by. The educational institutions of France are to be reconstituted according to the views of M. Paul Bert, who has an enlightened horror of Jesuitism, and holds that "the end does not justify the means" except in the matter of vivisection. By the time all these reforms are "gradually" carried out, France will be blest with a judicial body no longer irremovable, but completely dependent upon the Government of the hour for its daily bread; with an army in which the great test of merit will be, not efficiency in the field, but the exact shade of politics professed by its officers; and an educational system which will most certainly be at variance with the religious sentiments of three out of four of the families whose children it will have to instruct. Neutrality in the matter of religious teaching would, we believe, meet with the general approval of France. If M. Paul Bert confines his efforts to eliminating from the schools, the rubbish which he vivisected in his famous lecture a few months ago, he would carry public opinion with him. But M. Gambetta's own utterances show that there is at all events a strong probability that the war will be carried further, and in that case there will be trouble ahead. "If France is to regain her expansion or commerce by treaties," it must be borne in mind that M. Gambetta, in his Havre speech, spoke of "protecting the immense national production." By "protecting" did he mean "protection?" We shall soon see. Again, his declaration that it will be his aim to effect the "preservation of peace at home and abroad" cannot be taken without the gloss supplied by his Havre speech, in which he said that there was an "approaching day when unanimous France will demand from a Government permanently established the restoration of her ancient fortune." Is this demand to be satisfied by peace at home and abroad? If France be indeed so satisfied, Europe will be tranquil for yet a little while.

THE Resolution of the Government of Bombay ordering Madras time to be kept at all the public offices from the 1st proximo seems to have been issued without due consideration. If the change of time is to be adopted in the Government offices alone, there will be great confusion without any compensatory advantage; but if it is intended to lead to the general adoption, by the whole community, of Madras instead of Bombay time, the end can only be gained by very general inconvenience, and we fail to conceive what practical advantage will be gained as the end of all the confusion caused. The new observance may be restricted to the Government offices; it may be extended to the public offices generally; it may be rejected by the unofficial public; or lastly, it may gradually make its way throughout the community. Under the first supposition, which is the probable one—for we do not believe that the public will accept the change without some good reason being shown—we shall have the public offices working on a time differing half an hour from that of the public. The question then arises, are the hours in Government offices to remain as before, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., or in consequence of the time being made half an hour earlier are they to be changed to 10-30 a.m. and 5-30 p. m.? If the former, then the whole staff of native clerks have half an hour cut out of their mornings. To the rich this will make but little difference, but to those not very well off, the members of whose families must do all the household work—and these represent all but a few—the inconvenience will be most serious. Not only this, but every Government officer will lose half an hour out of every morning, the best time—in this country—for work, study, or exercise. But can this new time be maintained in the public offices, and not at Government House and at the houses of all officials? If the Governor wishes to see a Secretary at a certain hour at Parell, will it not be necessary to state, as is done in the railway guide-books, whether Bombay or Madras time is meant? If the Governor gives a levée, or if he issues invitations to dinner, who will know at what time he is expected? Even if a public notification be made at the beginning of the season that either Bombay or Madras time will be kept at Government House, who can depend upon remembering it? Or if any official has an appointment to meet H. E. the Governor, or even any head of a department, at a certain hour at the Secretariat, how will it be known what hour is meant? Again, what will be the practice at the High Court? Will the judges assimilate their time to that of the Government offices? If not, there must be confusion; and also if they do. Will the courts sit at eleven Madras time, half an hour earlier than now, thus depriving the judges and counsel of half an hour's time in the morning; or will the courts sit at 11-30, rising at 5-30? If the latter, will it be long before 11-30 comes to mean 12 noon? The interference with business will be very great. If the merchants do not change the time of their clocks and watches, and we have had no intimation that they will, but the contrary,—the Custom House will open half an hour earlier than any one wishes, but it will close in the evening when there is work to be done. Take the work at the dock; all the working hours here must be changed, or the gates will be open before light in the morning, but close in the evening when work ought to be going on. Then the tide-tables and the times for entering and leaving the dock must all be changed. Again, is the Cathedral clock to give Bombay time or Madras? Are we to go to church half an hour earlier than heretofore? And is the public to be compelled to walk or drive to church in the hot season at five in the afternoon, or is the time of service to be changed by half an hour? With one time kept in one place, and another time in another, how will it be possible to make any appointment, or issue any invitation, even among friends, for tiffin or dinner, without specifying the particular time which is referred to, whether Bombay or Madras? The confusion will be great, and the inconvenience intolerable. One of the very

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

AGRA, Nov. 16.

The Viceroy arrived here this afternoon half an hour before the time fixed officially. The Maharaja, with nine of his principal sirdars, and Colonel Bannerman, Resident, met him at the railway station, where a guard of honour composed of Jeypore troops was present. The station was handsomely decorated, a triumphal arch being thrown across the line. On his Excellency leaving the train a Jeypore battery close by fired a salute. A procession of eight or ten carriages was then formed ; the Viceroy, the Maharaja, and Colonel Bannerman occupying a Jeypore State carriage—a gorgeous equippage, with a gold canopy, and gold and silver mountings, drawn by four black horses in gold-mounted trappings. The procession drove through the principal street of the city, which were densely filled by the people, who crowded the rooftops and windows. In the thoroughfares several handsome triumphal arches with devices and mottoes, and innumerable banners and flags, spanned and adorned the streets, which were closely lined by Jeypore troops, and horse and foot-men roughly armed or wearing coats of mail, numbering in all about 7,000. The Maharaja took leave of the Viceroy at the Residency, which his Excellency occupies, tents for his camp being pitched around.

A durbar will be held in the Palace to-morrow afternoon at five ; and afterwards, in the evening, there will be a grand banquet given by the Maharaja.

At the meeting of the Corporation yesterday afternoon the budget estimates were considered. It was pointed out by the chairman that the total revenue exceeded that of last year by about Rs. 2,42,000, while the expenditure exceeded but slightly that of the previous year. It was proposed by the chairman of the Council (Dr. Cook), and seconded by Mr. M. N. Banajee, that the consolidated rate for the year be at eight per cent., namely, house-rent at four per cent., light rate at two per cent., and police rate at two per cent. Rao Sahib proposed as a rider that the minimum consolidated rate of eight per cent. required to be reduced. This rider was accepted by Dr. Cook and appended to the resolution, which was then carried unanimously. It was decided that water should be supplied to all charitable institutions in Bombay at a reduced rate of 3 annas per 1,000 gallons.

The resignation of Mr. T. H. Thornton, D.C.L., C.S.I., Judge of the Punjab Chief Court, which was recently mentioned as on the cards, has now, the Pioneer hears, actually been sent in.

Another victim of the warrant of July, 1881, the Englishman says, is Lieutenant-Colonel W. T. Corrie, of the 2nd Battalion Devonshire Regiment, commanding at Jalandar, who has to proceed home previous to retirement under its provisions.

The grant of free passages to their homes has recently been sanctioned by Government for the families of volunteers and transfers from native corps and depôts serving within the limits of the Presidency to corps serving north of Jacobabad, on the understanding that on the return of the troops the cost of the passages from their villages to the regiments will be defrayed by the men themselves.

Col. Trevor, officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, in communicating to the Government of Bengal the cordial approval by the Governor-General in Council of the proposal for the railway to be constructed by private enterprise from the Baidyanath station of the East Indian Railway to Deoghur and Rohini remarks :—"I am to add that the Government views with much satisfaction this genuine effort of private enterprise for the construction of a railway in India with local capital without any guarantee ; and in the hope that other similar proposals may be brought forward, the papers will be published in the Gazette of India for general information."

The Government of Bombay was asked recently by the Government of India whether the accounts of the District Funds constituted by Act III. of 1869 are published in the vernacular papers of the districts as required by the Act ; and it appears from the reply of the Local Government that the accounts are published in the vernacular papers of most of the districts where there are such papers, but not in some where the insertion would have to be paid for. The Governor-General in Council has requested that the Government of Bombay will issue instructions for compliance with the terms of the law in these districts, any necessary payments to the newspapers being made from the Local Funds.

The Governor-General in Council has been pleased to authorise the establishment of Government savings banks at all post offices, being money order offices, at which the Director-General of the Post Office shall permit deposits to be received, in the following Provinces and places, with effect from the 1st April, 1882 :—The Lower Provinces of Bengal, with the exception of the Presidency town and of the town of Howrah, Assam, North-Western Provinces, Punjab, Oudh, Central Provinces, British Burma, Berar, Port Blair, Coorg, Ajmere, Nowgong (Bundelkhand), Indore, Nusseerabad, Gwalior, Sambhar, and Quetta.

H. E. the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to sanction the formation of a Volunteer Rifle battalion to be designated the Ghazipur Volunteer Rifle battalion. The following appointments in the battalion are also sanctioned :—To be Lieut.-Col. Comdt. Maj. J.H. Rivett-Carnac, C.I.E., Ghazipur V. R. C. ; to be Majors—Mr. H. D. Willock, C.S., and Mr. F. W. Porter, C. S. The Viceroy has been further pleased to sanction the conversion of the Chunar (Garrison) Volunteer Artillery Corps into a company of Rifles to be affiliated to the Ghazipur Volunteer Rifle battalion.

Major Del. Wooldridge, Officiating Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry, has circulated, with the approval of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, a description and diagrams of a "Snap Target" invented by Major Frank James, Bombay Staff Corps, as an object for rifle practice at a figure representing a man as he would most likely appear in actual warfare. The target has already proved a source of recreation and of great practical utility to all who have tried it. The target can be constructed complete at a cost of about Rs. 20, which would be a legitimate charge against the lead and cartridge case fund. The target is the same as that used for snap shooting at the recent Central Presidency Rifle Meeting, which was popularly christened "jumping johnny."

The project of a Veterinary School at Lahore, the local paper says, has at length received the sanction of the Secretary of State, and will become an accomplished fact as soon as some necessary additions to the Medical College buildings have been made by the D. P. W. The school for saidrs now existing at Happur will be closed, and some fifty students will be transfered to the Lahore College. The expenses are to be divided between the Punjab and Supreme Government, and the control of the institution will be given to the Government of the Punjab. The appointment of Professor or Principal of the new school has been given to Inspecting Veterinary Surgeon Kettlewell, now in charge of the Saharanpur Remount Depôt, leaving an Assistant Professorship to be filled up by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab.

The reports of the Revenue and Agricultural Department on the state of the season and prospects of the crops throughout India for the week ending the 8th November show that there has been good rain in several districts of the Madras Presidency and in the Mysore State, as well as in Coorg and in parts of the Bombay Presidency. In Mysore, where the want of rain has been especially felt, the rainfall has been the heaviest and most beneficial. Prospects are generally good in Madras, and fair in Bombay. In the Central Provinces and Berar slight showers have fallen in several districts : the prospects of the kharif crops continue good, and the rabi sowings have been, or are almost, completed. In the Punjab rain is wanted in parts, but agricultural prospects continue favourable, and rabi sowings are in progress. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh also the want of rain is felt in the central tract, where the rabi sowings are impeded by deficient moisture : the kharif harvest is nearly complete with a fair average outturn. In Bengal there has been slight rain in a few districts, and the prospects of rice, save on the high unirrigated lands of Orissa and elsewhere, are generally favourable. In Assam and British Burma the condition of crops continues satisfactory ; and in the Rajputana and Central India States the favourable character of the season is still maintained. The detailed remarks regarding the Bombay Presidency, dated Nov. 9, are :—Good rain in Sholapur, Satara, and parts of Belgaum, Dharwar, and Ahmednagar ; cholera decreasing in Ahmednagar and Satara ; fever and cattle disease still continue in a few districts ; prices continue their upward tendency in the Southern Mahratta Country, steady elsewhere.

In a leading-article headed "The storm—a stern but useful monitor," the Madras Mail remarks :—"To lay minds it has always seemed matter for surprise that Mr. Parkes adopted a hard straight line, parallel to the shore, for his sea face, instead of a bowed, or curved one. The curves that were adopted, on second thoughts, at the point in the piers where they turn towards one another, was a concession on Mr. Parkes's part to the opinion widely entertained, that a right angle would involve weakness. It is too late now to depart from the straight line which seems to offer too rigid a front to the full force of the sea, and Mr. Parkes will have to devise measures for the better protection of the eastern walls. Had he been a witness on Saturday of the small account taken by the sea of his wall, and had he seen the wild water within the harbour, he could not but have arrived at the conclusion that he had drifted into the old mistake of "despising the enemy." So far from offering any shelter or refuge to shipping in bad weather, the harbour, as now constructed, is a menace to vessels that are unable to leave it. The position of a large steamer which, being disabled by the loss of a screw or by some injury to the machinery, could not effect her escape before the weather became bad, would consequently be highly dangerous. There is not a doubt that when Lord Hobart pressed the Secretary of State to sanction the construction of the harbour, he was prompted, not by regard to the convenience that such a work would afford to local commerce, so much as by the wish to supply the eastern coast of India with a harbour of refuge. His earnest representations at last overcame the reluctance of Lord Salisbury, and we are convinced that this would not have been the case had he not pressed home the point as to the unprotected nature of this coast. The harbour has been almost completed, and it has now been proved that so far as the shelter it affords during bad weather is concerned, the port, not to speak of the coast, would be better without it. It will be incumbent upon Mr. Parkes to modify his plan. He has been fortunate hitherto both in the weather and in his executive ; and as the moderate estimate for so gigantic a work has not been exceeded, there need be no anxiety about obtaining the additional grant that will be necessary to repair the initial errors of the design. There will be a tendency in some quarters to say with some exultation :—'There, didn't I tell you so ? Didn't I predict that this would happen ?' But, elsewhere, generous sympathy will be felt for Mr. Parkes and Mr. Thorowgood ; and the confidence will be entertained that the former will prove himself able to design, and the latter, as ever, competent to execute, the additional work that the stern monitor of Saturday has shown to be essential."

THE VICEROY'S TOUR.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

AGRA, Nov. 13.

In my last I mentioned that the Viceroy would visit Secundra, which is about four miles distant. Owing to other engagements I was unable to go there, but the "garden party" given by the Commissioner, Mr. Robertson, within the enclosure, which contains the tomb of Akbar, was successful in bringing a large number of people together, and afforded their Excellencies an opportunity of disposing of two engagements at the same time. The gathering was, I am told, a brilliant one, and curiously suggestive, to anybody with a bent for drawing mental comparisons between the forgotten past and "the living present." The three Maharajas were there, with many native gentlemen ; Sir George Couper was also present, and the civil and military community of Agra ; and the band of the Dragoon Guards supplied the music. The Viceroy and Lady Ripon spent some considerable time in examining the buildings, which I think I told you in a recent letter have latterly undergone considerable repairs under the supervision of Mr. Lawrence, C. S., who seems to have a hand in every work of usefulness here. Since I last wrote the camp has been sufficiently enlivened by cricket matches, billiard matches, and polo matches of a more or less exciting character. One of the best, probably, of the latter came off on the parade-ground yesterday morning, the contesting parties being on the one side the Maharana of Dholepore and his people, and on the other several officers of the Viceroy's camp, including Lord William Beresford, Mr. Durand, the Foreign Under-Secretary, Lieutenant Dalyell, the Body-Guard and one or two others. The game was very hotly contested, and luck was on the side of the Dholeporians at first, but the match was ultimately cleverly won by the other side. The Maharana is an excellent horseman, rides bare-backed as well as a circus performer, and takes delight in all manly games, speaks English perfectly, using such phrases as "now then, old boy"—"get along with you"—"blest if I'm not as dry as a whistle," &c., &c., with an easy and natural facility remarkable in an Oriental Prince. He seems to be a general favourite and a liberal patron of all out-door amusements.

Yesterday afternoon the Viceroy returned the visits of the Maharajas Sindhia and Bhurtpore and the Maharana of Dholepore. The three kings live in houses widely apart, so that there was considerable coaching to be done. The visits were all private, and made with the customary formalities ; and the Viceroy wound up the afternoon's work by an inspection of the Agra College, an unimpressive-looking turretted building, composed of the inevitable red sandstone, the heat-retaining qualities of which makes it almost intolerable for the European masters in the summer, and uncomfortably warm for the native students. Here the Viceroy was received by Mr. Dighton, the Principal, Mr. Robertson, the Commissioner, and others, and shown over the various class-rooms, in which the students, numbering in all about 150, were seated. His Excellency remained for half an hour or so, and then returned to camp. Meanwhile Lady Ripon was engaged in visiting the Canning Girls' School, where she stayed for some time, and in which the school her Excellency paid a visit to the Maharani of Dholepore, with whom, I am told, she held interesting converse. Agra seems a sort of centre for large schools, though, I should think it has little in the matter of climate to recommend it ; in all probability, however, the new scheme of Government, by which inter alia it is proposed to largely increase the number of lower schools throughout Northern India, will have the effect of greatly "decentralizing" these great educational points. Another school visitation took place this afternoon at five o'clock, but of a much more interesting character than the previous ones. In that there was a number of visitors present, the decorations inside and outside were extensive, and his Excellency was unexpectedly drawn into making a speech. The school on this occasion was St. Peter's, sometimes called the Roman Catholic College ; and from the ancient history attaching to it, and its high reputation as an educational institution, it would seem to be the most interesting and popular establishment of its kind in these parts. The number on the rolls is about two hundred, the majority being boarders. There is a nursery attached to the school for very young children and orphans, one of whom, by the way—a pretty little boy—presented the Viceroy with a bouquet. The school possesses an excellent "brass band," which was drawn up at the entrance, and played "God save the Queen" on the Viceroy's arrival. His Excellency was at once conducted to what I may call the decorated room, and took his seat at the top of it in a chair of state raised on a small dais over which a canopy was erected, brilliant with coloured silken hangings and ornamentation. Major, Chatterton having taken his seat at the piano in front, and the choir, consisting of about thirty boys, having gathered around him, the following chorus of welcome was sung :—

Hark ! Strains of gladness
Their festive music wake around ;
Youth's happy accents
In joyful song resound.

Chorus.

Let every heart and voice
The chorus loudly swell,
And peals of music sweet
Our joyous welcome tell.
A thousand hearty welcomes
Our noble Viceroy greet !
To hail thee, gentle lady,
Ten thousand we repeat !

With glad rejoicings were the tidings hailed
That thy mission to this distant shore ;
Still brighter burned hope's visions when thy rule
Its golden rays the realm extended o'er.

Justice holds her faithful balance at thy side,
Thy counsels Mercy's Angel-spirits guide,
And India smiles 'neath thy paternal sway,
As dewy morning glows to noon-lit day.

God bless our Viceroy !
God bless thee noble, Marchioness !
His richest graces
Your kindly hearts e'er bless.

Chorus.

Let every heart and voice
The chorus loudly swell,
And peals of music sweet
Our joyous welcome tell.
A thousand hearty welcomes
Our noble Viceroy greet !
To hail thee, gentle lady,
Ten thousand we repeat !

Within the empire vast of Akbar's might
On Agra first Faith's dawning rays shone bright :
Still Christian Martyrs in her precincts lie,
And still waves the Church's peerless standard high
Great then the joy this glorious day imparts,
In the old capital, to Catholic hearts,
For now we see the ruler England sends
With faith and truth God's Altar bends.

God bless our Viceroy !
God bless thee, noble Marchioness !
His richest graces
Your kindly hearts e'er bless.

Chorus.

Let every heart and voice
The chorus loudly swell,
And peals of music sweet
Our joyous welcomes tell.
A thousand hearty welcomes
Our noble Viceroy greet !
To hail thee, gentle lady,
Ten thousand we repeat !

At the conclusion of this song his Excellency, at the request of the Principal that he would say something on the occasion, addressed the students in the following interesting little speech :—

I am requested to say a few words to you who are present here to-day, and specially to those who are the pupils of this institution. I had no expectation when I came here that I should be called upon to make any remarks upon this occasion, although I confess that a long experience of occasions of this description has taught me that it generally happens that some insidious but seductive gentleman like Father Symphorian says to one at the end of the ceremonies, "Won't you be good enough to say a few words ?" (Laughter.) Well, now, I cannot refuse to obey that call, and if anything that I can say will be of advantage to those who are the students of this institution, I am very glad to have the opportunity of addressing a few words to them. And I need no preparation for the purpose, because I have throughout the whole course of my public life been deeply interested in that which is the principal object of this institution—the advancement of the education of the young ; and I have been convinced by a long experience that there are few questions of more importance in the days in which we live, whether it be at home in England, in India, or in any other part of the world, than the question of education. Now, my young friends, I feel the very greatest interest in being able to visit this institution to-day, because there are connected with it memories which reach far back into this historic past of India, for, as you all know, this establishment, connected with the Catholic Church, dates from the reign of the great Mogul Emperor Akbar, and is one of the most ancient European institutions in the whole of the Indian Peninsula. Now, let me suggest to you, my young friends, that the very fact that this is an ancient institution, founded here in the midst of the Mahomedan Empire long before the English race ruled in this part of India, ought to make you very proud of belonging to an institution of such antiquity, and surrounded as it is by such celebrated memories ; and you, who are brought up here in this college at Agra, ought to remember that you have an especial call to maintain the reputation of that college, and of seeing that, having existed now for some hundreds of years, it does not fall back in its reputation or in its rank amongst other educational institutions in India through any neglect on your part of the advantages it affords. As I said before, I believe that the question of education is one of the most important public questions of the times in which we live ; and do let me entreat of you, the pupils of this institution, to avail yourselves earnestly and zealously of the advantages which it affords to you. It is very likely that you young boys, when you hear me say that, will say to yourselves, "Oh, it is all very well for him to talk ; he is an old fellow, with no further time to play and amusement, and it is all very well for him to preach to us, and tell us that we ought to attend to our studies." Well, I assure you that it is not because my limbs are a little stiff, and I am not as skilful at games as you are, that I give you that advice ; but it is because a long observation of the world, in many parts of it, and in many quarters of the globe, has convinced me that in these times if you wish to live advantageous, honourable, and happy lives in the future—and I trust that God may grant to you all many years yet in the world—if you wish to make those years which be in his mercy gives you useful for your fellow-men, and calculated to promote the glory of God, and advantageous to yourselves, you must avail yourselves of the opportunities which you have now in this institution. Your faculties are now young and bright ; you can learn things with comparative ease, which later on in life you would learn with great difficulty, and which, perhaps, you would not have the opportunity of learning at all, because you must make your way in the world ; and in these times you will not make your way in the world, you will not take that position to which your intelligence and character would entitle you to occupy, unless you cultivate that intelligence and develop those characters by attention to your studies here, and by availing yourselves to the utmost extent of the advantages which an institution of this kind affords. Therefore do let me entreat you (I do not wish to detain you longer now, but do let me entreat you earnestly, one and all) to put your shoulders to the wheel and cast aside the lassitude which may sometimes come over you in the trying climate of this country, and devote yourselves earnestly to derive from this establishment the many and great benefits which it is calculated to confer upon you. And now, as I have obeyed Father Synphorion, I have asked him to obey me, and he has been kind enough to say he will, and the request I have made is this, as I have given you a preachment on the advantages of study, he should make amends to you for that infliction by allowing you a holiday.

Three cheers were then given by the boys, and his Excellency proceeded to inspect the college and convent close by, which occupied some time.

The Lieutenant-Governor left for Allahabad this evening.

PRIVATE WORK BY PUBLIC SERVANTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Does the Government Resolution quoted by you in your issue of Monday last, and which is now made applicable to the employés of the Educational Department, debar medical gentlemen in Government service from engaging in private practice ? I am a doctor in Government service with extensive private practice, and was thunder-struck when a doubt was raised by a friend as to the legality of the fees I receive. The Resolution is, no doubt, general and sweeping, but is it seriously intended to apply it to every branch of the public service ?

GIVE CREDIT TO WHOM CREDIT IS DUE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—I have no doubt the Superintendent of the P. and O. Co. will give due consideration to the suggestions of Mrs. Spink in your issue of Saturday last, but I beg you will allow me to inform that lady and your readers that she is wrong in attributing to Mr. Parker the great and inestimable boon of landing passengers and their baggage at the Apollo-bunder, instead of at the P. and O. Company's shed at Mazagon as before. The entire credit of the new arrangements is due to the modest and the most able and energetic Collector of Customs at Bombay, Mr. Trevor, who, it is said, forced them on the P. and O. Co., notwithstanding all that the Superintendent urged with his might and main against their adoption, which, by the way, he said he did in the interests and for the convenience and comfort of the passengers. Suffice it to say that it is the unanimous opinion of the voyaging public that Mr. Trevor, and not Mr. Parker, has conquited the interests, convenience, and comfort of the passengers. I heard my husband remark to his friends that Mr. Parker clung to his old Mazagon shed with as much love as Ariel clung to Miserrimus Dexter, as readers of Wilkie Collins's "Law and the Lady will remember.

MRS. SMART.

A GUZERATI NAME FOR THE TELEPHONE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Now that the telephone bids fair to be so familiar in India, I believe it will be of some interest to the Indian public in general to be acquainted with a vernacular name for it. Accordingly I beg to reproduce my letter to the Indian Antiquary of November, 1878 :—

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE INDIAN ANTIQUARY,"

SIR,—I beg to suggest, through the medium of your valuable journal, a Guzerati word for the newly invented telephone, and hope it will meet the approval of students of philology.

The word is durgin, from Persian dur meaning far, and gu from guftan to speak. The word literally means speaker from a distance, and is coined on the analogy of durbin (telescope), which literally means observer from a distance. Like durbin, the word durgin, I trust, will be equally acceptable to the Mahrathi, Hindustani, and Persian languages, and also to the vernaculars of Bengal and Madras, if they can allow the infusion of the Persian element in them.

would set the matter at rest for ever." And as your attitude towards ourselves has always been, so far as I know, one of self-respectful impartiality, I will do for you, what I have scorned and ever will scorn to do, for I despised editors who have been abusing us so shamelessly and without cause. I send you herewith for inspection a packet of original official documents, emanating from highly placed officers of the American War, Navy, Treasury, and State Departments to and about myself, which show that my personal, and official character at home, is without spot or blemish. They show that since my arrival in India, and down to a very recent date—only a few weeks, in fact—I have been doing favours for the State Department, the Quarter-Master-General, U.S.A., and the Smithsonian Institution, by the collection of information about commerce, Army Tentage, and Ethnology. I invite you to subject these documents to the closest scrutiny of the Inspector-General of Police, the Queen's Advocate, the Bishop of Colombo, or any other public officer, or private analyst, who is supposed to be capable of selecting an "adventurer" at sight. Through the American Consul, the American Minister at London, or any other channel, you are at liberty to inquire into my 'status' and my services to my country during before, and since the war. These papers show that I have been associated on public committees and on terms of perfect equality, with the most eminent of American Statesmen (including the late President Garfield), merchants and bankers. If you will take the trouble to have enquiry made, you will also find that as a lawyer I have had such great clients as the Corporation of New York City, the N. Y. Stock Exchange, the Mutual and Equitable Life and Continental Life Insurance companies, and the Gold Exchange Bank and Panama Railway Co.; and that in the year 1870 I was retained by the New York representatives of the United steel-manufacturers of Sheffield to proceed to England and adjust a very large customs revenue claim laid against them by the U. S. Government. But I will not enter into a catalogue of the easily-found proofs that go to show, that the vile and libellous epithet of "unscrupulous adventurer," flung at me by the Saturday Review, is as little applicable to me as to any man living. The last thing desired by the enemies of the Theosophical Society is—I most sadly affirm—that the status of its founders "should be placed beyond all doubt or cavil." The sole weapon they can use against us is slander and ridicule, and they neither want our characters cleared, nor will publish the facts. Take, as an example, this very libel of the Saturday Review. The editor printed it on the 3rd of September, without a scintilla of evidence before him that was not judicial to our good name. On the 17th of the same month he published a retraction confessing that the remarks "were based upon the published accounts of their doings, which struck us as bearing a suspicious resemblance to those of the 'spirit mediums' in Europe and America." Upon such warranty as this one of the first journals of England did not hesitate to brand an innocent lady and gentleman with the most opprobrious of epithets! I have just made a flying visit to the Madras Presidency to organize a new branch of our Society. On the day of my arrival at Tinnevelly, the Missionary presses at Palamcottah issued a pamphlet entitled "Theosophy," without imprint or any other sign of its origin, which was simply a republication of the Saturday's libel, and an equally discreditable one by the N. Y. Times, based upon a letter I was falsely alleged to have written to a gentleman at New York. The Missionaries had not the honesty to print the Saturday's retraction after the libel, for that would have defeated their object. And rightly suspecting that their indecent pamphlet would be flung in the face of their colporteurs, the latter were ordered to say at every Hindu residence where a copy was left, that it was "sent with the compliments of Mr. Soondram Iyer"—the Secretary of our new branch. I need not comment upon such conduct, for I am addressing a British audience.

As regards the status of my noble colleague—who, being a lady of sensitive temperament, suffers far more than myself from these unmanly attacks—it is to good and, socially, far better than my own. Her family is one of the Dolgorouki the most illustrious in Russia, and in that country has figured since the earliest times in the great deeds of its members. Some have surmised that my colleague may be an impostor who, having possessed herself of the real lady's "papers," was deceiving me as well as society at large. This theory is absurd in the extreme. My friend is in constant correspondence with the family members at Orissa, Tiflis, and Moscow, with whom she has exchanged portraits and presents. All this correspondence has passed through my hands, and I myself have attended to the clearing of the parcels and cases through the Custom Houses of New York and Bombay. Moreover, I have received from the oldest surviving lady member of the family a long account of Madame Blavatsky's life, and the strongest assurances of the love and respect in which she is held by them.

Pardon, I pray you, the length of this letter. I have for months, in silence and disgust, allowed the poor creatures who delight in slander, to send broadcast their wretched seed, for I have always been taught by the lessons of history that such seed, being steeped in the acrid juices of falsehood and malice, will rot in the ground, enrich the soil for its reception as you may. I firmly belive that a pure and honest life is its own best shield; and that as time wears on and the results of our labours in India and Ceylon show themselves, the eternal law of compensation will vindicate the reputations of Madame Blavatsky and your obedient servant,

H. S. OLCOTT.

BENGAL.

DEATHS IN CALCUTTA.—During the week ended the 5th November, there were 236 deaths registered in Calcutta, giving a death-rate of 37·9 per thousand per annum. In the previous week the rate were 278 deaths, and the death-rate was 33·7 per thousand. There were no deaths from small-pox, 35 from cholera, 97 from fevers, 37 from bowel complaints, 20 from tetanus, and 9 from causes not specified. The deaths are thus classified:—

MADRAS.

THE RECENT CYCLONE.—The history of the cyclone may be described as follows. A cyclone was not expected even on Saturday night, but distinctly afterwards apprehensions of one began to be entertained. The heaviest wind was at eleven p. m. on Saturday night, and at one a. m. Sunday morning, each hour thirty-three miles. The wind for the whole day, Saturday, i. e., from Friday to Saturday midnight was 330 miles. The total rainfall continued from 1½ a. m. to 8 p. m. on Saturday, and amounted to 8·19 inches, being the twelfth heaviest fall on record at Madras since 1855. No single hour was extraordinarily excessive, but the persistence of both wind and rain was remarkable. The veering of the wind was exactly as usual in Madras cyclone, quickest between N. E. and East, and may be timed thus:—N. W. from eight a. m. till 4 p. m.; N. N. W. at 7 p. m.; North at 7½ p. m.; N. N. E. at 8½ p. m., N. E. at 10½ p. m.; East at 2½ a. m.; and S. E. at 7½ a. m. yesterday morning, when the storm was fairly passed and over. The rain since January 1st is now 34 inches; the average due since January 1st being 36·6 inches.—Times.

THE Mail of Monday evening states:—The appearance of Madras yesterday morning was of a cheerless character, for sheets of water were to be seen on all sides, some trees had been uprooted, and others had been shorn of branches and leaves by the wind. But in the course of the day the water drained off to a great extent, and the sun came out, and dried up the roads. The sea had gone down so much that the P. and O. steamer Clyde was enabled on her arrival in the afternoon to enter the harbour as though nothing had happened a few hours previously, and her passengers for this port were landed without difficulty at the iron pier.

THE EFFECTS OF THE CYCLONE AT CASSIMODE.—In a recent issue we alluded to the encroachment of the sea in this part of Madras, and during the storm of Saturday, as was to be expected, the sea caused still further damage. The rails which have been laid down for the purpose of continuing the protection works about half a mile north of Mr. Colemans's house have been wrenched out of their places, and are lying all battered and twisted in any direction except the right one. A portion of the godown of one house has come down with a run, and is lying in broken masses along the beach, whence it will doubtless be speedily washed away. About twenty huts, too, are said to have been washed away.—Times.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR.—If your hair is turning grey or white, or falling off, use "The Mexican Hair Renewer," for it will positively restore in every case Grey or White hair to its original colour, without leaving the disagreeable smell of most "Restorers." It makes the hair charmingly beautiful, as well as promoting the growth of the hair on bald spots, where the glands are not decayed. Ask your Chemist for "THE MEXICAN HAIR RENEWER," sold by Chemists and Perfumers every where at 3s. 6d per Bottle. Sold wholesale by the Anglo American Drug Co., Limited, 33, Farringdon Road, London.

SULPHOLINE LOTION.—An External Means of CURING SKIN DISEASES. There is scarcely any eruption but will yield to "Sulpholine" in a few days, and commence to fade away even if it seems past cure. Ordinary pimples, redness, blotches, scurf, roughness, vanish as if by magic; whilst old, enduring skin disorders, that have plagued the sufferers for years, however deeply rooted they may be, "Sulpholine" will successfully attack them. It destroys the animalcule which cause these unsightly, irritable, painful affections, and always produces a clear, healthy, natural condition of the skin. "Sulpholine" Lotion is sold by most Chemists. Bottles, 2s. 9d. Made by J. PEPPER and Co., London. Sold by TREACHER and Co.

PEPPER'S QUININE and IRON TONIC strengthens the nervous and muscular system, improves digestion, animates the spirits, recruits the health. For debilitated health from the effect of hot climates this tonic is invaluable.

Is a specific remedy for neuralgia, ague, indigestion, fevers of every kind, chest affections and in wasting disease, scrofulous tendencies, &c. The whole frame is greatly invigorated by Pepper's Tonic, the mental faculties brightened, the constitution greatly strengthened, and a return to robust health certain. Bottles, 32 doses, 4s. 6d.; next size, 11s. Sold by Chemists everywhere. The name of J. Pepper, Bedford Laboratory, London, must be on the label.
